

Nelson Professional Development Workshops

PRESENTED BY CARMEL SMALL

Benchmarking and Guided Reading

This workshop focuses on best practice in the teaching of reading – that is to ensure we have the right book in the hands of the right child at the right time.

We will explore the demands of the reading process, matching of children to text, and unpacking the Benchmarking process.

We will then practise the taking of Records of Reading and the full analysis of the recorded reading behaviours.

Finally we will look at using the Records of Reading to inform teaching within the Guided Reading process.

This session is practical and will link directly to the classroom. Any teacher who wishes to learn about Guided Reading or refresh their knowledge should attend.

Specifically we will cover

- The Balanced Reader
- Levelled Text
- Benchmarking – tell/retell, reading record, comprehension
- Taking a Running (or Reading) Record
- Error analysis: Meaning Structure, Visual
- Using a Running Record effectively
- The Guided Reading Process
