

Nelson Professional Development Workshops

PRESENTED BY CARMEL SMALL

Explicitly Teaching Writing

This practical, hands-on session will focus on explicitly teaching children about the literacy demands of text and strategies to construct and deconstruct the text types of the Australian Curriculum. It will include a focus on the structure and language features associated with a range of texts, and link the explicit teaching of reading to the explicit teaching of writing.

Session Outline:

- Identifying the features of a range of Australian Curriculum texts
- The need for all our students to access and manipulate language
- Teaching children the structure and language features of a range of text types, including grammar
- Teaching children explicitly how to choose words to effectively construct texts
- Effective strategies to assist students to learn editing skills
- Teaching/Learning activities to develop vocabulary for writing, including orally constructing text.
