

CREATE A TAILORED SOLUTION FOR YOUR COURSE

LOOKING FOR COURSE MATERIALS THAT ARE ALIGNED WITH THE WAY YOU TEACH?

Custom solutions deliver the content you want, in your preferred style and format. With Cengage, anything is possible.

Create a customised textbook your students will love

Tailor the content for your course, and teach from a textbook that is structured to follow your course plan.

- Select from best-selling Cengage content
- Package it with the latest technology options
- Choose from a range of delivery formats (print, eBook or online)
- Add your own readings or notes
- Select from a variety of cover designs

The perfect fit

Your students study your tailored material in the right order. Build a table of contents to suit your teaching plan and to match your students' weekly classes, tutorials and set homework tasks, with revision materials to align with interactive digital resources.

Publish your learning resource with Cengage

Being an author with Cengage can offer you a global audience and new tools to deliver positive outcomes for learners. Our experienced team collaboratively supports the success of our authors and the communities they serve.

We support your success with:

- A publishing and editorial team that ensures your ideas are expressed effectively in print, digital, or hybrid learning materials
- The highest quality production services and award-winning design teams to enhance your work
- A marketing group with expertise on consumer needs, delivering compelling messages to customers
- A dedicated sales team who help customers make the right decision
- A multi-channel distribution and support network that gives customers unlimited access to content

We welcome your ideas for new textbooks, media projects, or online learning materials to meet the learning styles of the constantly evolving Higher Education sector.

First steps

If you have a well-developed idea for a learning resource, the first step is to submit an author proposal form to us. This will articulate your understanding of market needs, market opportunities and how your project can offer a better solution for that market. It will help to clarify your project's purpose and scope, for us and our reviewers.

Download an author proposal form for universities and VET at cengage.com.au/publish

Once completed, please email the form to the relevant publishing editor, whose details are listed on the form. Our publishing team will review your proposal and contact you.

Thank you for considering Cengage as your learning resource partner!

Having never been involved in the production of a customised textbook, I was unsure about everything to do with the process. However, I need not have worried. From the moment I contacted the Cengage representative to the book being printed and delivered to me (and to the bookshop) the process was as smooth, fast, and as easy as picking a regular textbook. Yet, I now have something that specifically fits my teaching needs: no more extra handouts and readings; no reworking of the course when the textbook changes (and the students also like it too--they see real value in the textbook because we now use the whole of the customised text). The staff at Cengage make producing a customised text so straightforward and fast that I cannot imagine using anything else.
